APRIL 2023

The H&G team recently attended Paris Déco Off. A wonderful opportunity to note new trends and be inspired by spring collections, it always shows how far design leaps forward in a year. What to expect in 2023? Wallpaper is back with a bang: Arte's incredible approach to materials, colour and pattern is the creative gold standard. Standout sculptural forms and courageous colours, seen in furniture, rugs, accessories and, yes, wallpaper, are everywhere.

Sustainability is no longer a buzzword: brands are taking action, and those that have always worked with ecofriendly materials are enjoying the spotlight – Atelier Vime's rattan Medici pedestal and vase is an attention-stealing example. Tying these threads together is the renewed interest in traditional materials, processes and motifs. We have explored how you can introduce this bold new world into every corner of your home in this, our decorating issue. Fabulous Rooms (p71) helps you combine personality with practicality; Kit Kemp's The Art of Interior Design offers advice on using playful colour (p91); and stylist Colin King shows how beautifully arranged objects can enrich a space (p97). Don't miss our homes (from p117), which present vastly contrasting ways to a flawless finish.
